

NEW Child Health Information Link (CHIL)

for Sydney Local Health District Child and Family Health Services

Sydney Local Health District has a new central access point for referral, appointments, information and support for local families to our Child and Family Health Services.

The Child Health Information Link or 'CHIL' is staffed by Sydney Local Health District's allied health and nursing clinicians.

It is for anyone looking after children.

This includes parents and carers, health professionals, service providers and child development experts.

To access our
